To whom it may concern,

It is with great enthusiasm that I recommend Athir Al Abri for her ability to support in the academic environment. Athir has been an exceptional student in my computer science courses, consistently demonstrating a strong work ethic and a passion for storytelling. I was her lecturer on the computer network course; she has excellent communication and teaching skills. She can explain difficult concepts clearly, has strong technical knowledge in IT, leadership, and teamwork abilities, responsibility and professionalism, passion for teaching and helping others learn

Her ability to take constructive feedback and improve her craft is truly impressive. I am confident she will bring creativity and dedication to the tasks she is given.

Sincerely,
